RELY ON UNITED STATES

President Uttered Strong Intimation That Monroe Doctrine Had Become Obsolete—Reaches Washington Early This Morning.

Boston Feb. 25.—"Every nation in the world trusts the United States."

This was the high point in the President's address at Mechanics' Hall yesterday afternoon—his first public report to the American people on the deliberations of the Peace Conference in Paris.

Mr. Wilson also uttered a strong intimation that the Monroe Doctrine had outlived its usefulness. For he declared that a mere treaty would be nothing but "a modern scrap of paper; no nations to defend it, no great forces combined to make it good, no assurance given to the down trodden and fearful people of the world that they shall be safe. With as much force as the Prsident could command he went on.

"I invite that man to test the sentiments of the nation. We set this nation up to make men free and we did not confine out conceptions and purposes to America and now we will make men free. If we did not do that all the fame of America would be gone and all her power would be dissipated."

The President's reception from the hour at which he left the George Washington at 10 o'clock yesterday afternoon, was one long ovation.

President Wilson is back in the White House.

Leaving Boston after that city had given him a rousing ovation during his speech, the Presidential party arrived in the Union Station at 5:05 this morning. The train carrying his special car left the Hub at 4:31 p. m.

Immediately after his train arrived in the station he was whisked off in his automobile, followed by a delegation of police and Secret Service men, who had been detailed to meet him.

The President did not sign the big revenue bill in Boston. It is learned that the measure is locked up in the White House safe awaiting his return. It is probable that it will be signed this afternoon, making it effective this midnight.

Richmond—George Walsh

If somebody came along with one of the greatest comedy pictures ever produced—a picture featuring the screen's greatest athletic star and which would prove to be one of the greatest drawing cards you ever played—you would size the opportunity to get in on some big profits, wouldn't you?

Well, "Luck and Pluck," starring George Walsh, at the Richmond Theatre tonight, is about the best comedy in which Walsh has ever appared—and that is going some It tells a remarkable story about an "honorable" crook—who became an honorable crook only when he met a charming girl.

In this William Fox picture you have every element that goes to make up a successful production. There is a "fetching" romance that moves with the rapidity of lighting; a series of death defying, nervy, thrilling stunts that will astound, even though done by George Walsh, the photoplay's supreme athelete.

It was agreed that all matters in dispute would be placed before a conference committee composed of three men selected by the employers and three of the workmen. All matters upon which the committee failed to agree after three days would be submitted to Judge Henry P. Dugros, of New York city, whose decision would be made within two weeks and would be final.

An advance in wages was the only question involved, and the employers were said to have expressed a willingness to concede an increase. The men demanded an advance of $1 to $6.50 a day.

Approximately 125,000 men were involved in the strike, which threatened to become nation-wide. It was estimated that 90 per cent of Government construction would have been stopped if the strike had spread.

ROAD TO CITY OF DEAD SCHOOL IMPROVEMENTS

Condition Very Bad—Improvements Badly Needed—Matter Probably Will be Presented to Council—Sidewalks Sadly Neglected

Committee From Parent-Teachers' Association Make Appeal to Civic Bureau of Chamber of Commerce—"White Way" Discussed.

The need of a modern roadway leading to the cemeteries in the southwestern section of the city is again being agitated.

The present roadway on Wilkes street from Alfred to Payne streets, is in very bad shape and after heavy rains hacks frequently get stuck in the mud and it frequently happens that funeral parties are compelled to leave the vehicles and walk to the cemeteries so bad is the condition of the roads.

That the matter will be brought to the attention of the city council and a suitable appropriation asked for is the opinion of those fostering the movement.

There is no road in the city of Alexandria that its improvement is more badly needed than the road to the Protestant cemeteries of the city.

Many years ago this road was built by the government and since that time no other improvements have been made. As a result it is completely worn out and needs complete renewal.

It has been suggested that a good and substantial roadway could be constructed early this spring at a nominal cost which would prove of great benefit to those compelled to drive funeral carriages to the cemeteries.

The sidewalks leading to the cemeteries are also badly in need of repair and this matter also should be given immediate attention.

THIRD SAYRE BABY

The second, Eleanor Axson Wilson Sayre, was born at Jefferson Hospital, March 26, 1916. Another grandchild is Ellen Wilson McAdoo.

ASK FULL REPARATION

France Would "Put Everything on the Bill Against Germany.

Paris, Feb. 25 —Reparation by Germany is now the question of outstanding interest at the peace conference. The French are opposing the American view that indemnities should not be extended to cover the payment by Germany of the allies' cost of the war.

The French view in a nutshell is: "Put everything on the bill and then get as much as possible."

INGOMAR—Wedlock

The story of a man who, living for life's riches, lost himself and was saved by the woman he persecuted.

Persecuted by the unwritten laws of society, the woman waits, and suffers until the hand of fate strikes at her persecutors and then she fights, fights for those she loves, her persecutors.

Known to fame as "The Peacock Vampire," Louise Glaum attains the most brilliant success of her career in "Wedlock," the story of a noble woman, who wins life's battles through the nobleness of her being.

It presents the foremost delineator of intense situations, in the pinnacle of her illustrious career at the Ingomar tonight.

RITES FOR W. E. PAYNE

Sidney Peters, state prohibition commissioner, under whom Mr. Payne worked, made a brief address at the funeral in which he lauded the work done by the deceased and asked the citizens to uphold the provisions of the law.

The funeral was attended by a large concourse of relatives and friends of the deceased. Burial was made in Alexandria county.

Mr. Patterson is one of the best known and most eloquent speakers on prohibition in the state of Virginia. He was twice elected governor of Tennessee, and during those terms was one of prohibition's bitterest foes. He, however, became to converted to the prohibition cause and since then has devoted his time to that cause.

SLAYER OF POLICEMAN WILL BE ARRAIGNED

LYNCHING AVERTED WASHINGTON BONE DRY

Self Confessed Slayer of Prohibition Inspector Closely Guarded—Band of Men Bent on Taking Law in Their Own Hands Disbanded.

President Signs Revenue Bill Which Carries Rider While His Train Was Nearing National Capital—Carefully Studied by Executive.

Lewis Payne, brother of William E. Payne, prohibition agent of Virginia, who was murdered Friday night by a bootlegger, last night averted the lynching of his brother's confessed slayer, helping with the intervention of the Eleventh Cavalry to stay a band of thirty-five bent on this errand.

Armed with guns, and carrying a long rope and avowed of the intention of lynching Benjamin F. Johnson, colored, held for the murder of his brother, Payne last night stopped the party about half a mile from Alexandria Courthouse, where the suspect was lodged, and disbanded them.

Payne explained to the men that he had just had a conference with Commonwealth Attorney Frank Ball, and had been assured that Johnson would not be moved from the county, and that hearing would be given him today.

He said that he felt the best course would be the legal one and urged that the men refrain from mob violence.

The men had met in Clarendon and prepared plans for the hanging of the suspect.

He told them the courthouse was heavily guarded, and that authorities were in touch with military officials at Fort Myer.

He said no one among the mob was more interested in the case than he, and that it was his wish to let the law take its course.

In that dark stretch of the road, the men palavered for some time, on the life of one man and decided to disband.

In the meantime, authorities had taken precautions to prevent any delivery at the court house. The building is a strongly-built one. It stands well back from the road. And in back of the building is a sinister appearing grove of trees.

Lights were burning brightly at the entrance all night. More than a dozen well-armed guards reposed in the shadow of the walls behind windows of the second story.

Any one coming within the range of the lights could easily be covered from the shadow by men in the building, which was darkened within, and the dozen men could hold off several times their number.

The guards remained on an all-night vigil. The country side was highly aroused by the confession of Johnson. His statement that he shot Payne in self-defense did not temper the austerity of the population nearby.

Washington officially went into the "bone dry" column at 12:01 a. m., today.

President Wilson signed the six-billion dollar revenue bill, which carries a rider making the National Capital "bone dry" at 6:45 o'clock last night while his train was speeding to Washington.

The measure was taken to Boston by Secretary Tumulty, and was carefully studied by the President after his train left Boston.

The fact that midnight had arrived and no report of the President's signature had been received here led disciples of Bacchus to believe that John Barleycorn would get another twenty-four hour reprieve. Consequently many Washingtonians had planned to make "just one more trip."

Major Pullman and the police are prepared to enforce the new "bone-dry" law relentlessly. A bulletin was issued yesterday to all precincts in anticipation of President Wilson signing the revenue bill last night. Attention was called to the fact that no liquor couuld be brought into the District.

"Neither can there be any test case," said Major Pullman, in issuing the bulletin to his precinct captains, as the Supreme Court of the United States has already ruled that the "bone dry" law is valid February 18."

It is estimated that more than $2,000,000 worth of liquor has been brought from Baltimore in the last few days and stored in private homes. This will be safe from police search.

Incidentally, when the thirsty man goes to Baltimore now, he will find prices on whisky advanced one-third and beer almost impossible to get.

Several big automobile trucks filled with liquor were captured shortly before noon and taken to the First precinct and the drivers taken in custody—many individuals who were unaware of the signing of the bill also were captured by the police.

SUFFRAGISTS JAILED

Women Refuse to Move on From in Front of Reviewing Stand.

Boston, Feb. 25.—Twenty-three women members of the National Woman's party, carrying suffrage banners, were arrested in front of the State House yesterday when they refused to comply with orders of the police to move on. They were charged with failing to obey a city ordinance.

Mary Pickford in Strong Picture

Among the early successes scored by Mary Pickford, "Caprice," was one of the most brilliant. This picture has been re-issued by Paramount in greatly improved form and it will be shown at the Grand Theatre tomorrow. It is said to be one of the best pictures in which "Our Mary" ever has been seen and that is saying a great deal. In this photoplay, Miss Pickford is wooed and won by a youth from the city. His father opposes the match, but the youth marries the girl and later realizes that his father was right when he said Mercy Baxter was not the social equal of his son. The bride is taken home by her father and later sent to a boarding school, where her chum proves to be her sister in law; but the wife conceals her identity. At a commencement ball, the husband meets his wife, but he fails to recognize her. All's well that ends well, as the sequel proves. The backgrounds of the picture are wll chosen, and many of them are of marked beauty. The support is excellent, Miss Pickford's leading man being Owen Moore who, as Jack, was kept busy throughout the action. The photoplay is filled with action, vigorous and potent

HELL FOR RENT CHEAP

Billy Sunday Stirs Philadelphia Throng With Cracks at Kaiser, The Devil and Bolsheviki.

Philadelphia, Feb. 25.—Hell will be for rent cheap, the devil will bank his fires nad hang crape on the door when the nation goes dry. Billy Sunday told told a crowd that packed the Metropolitan Opera House last night while thousands were left on the outside with tickets, clamoring for admission.

Billy is conducting a revival in Richmond, Va., and gave his off-day this week to the Pocket Testament League, of this city, to stimulate subscriptions to give a pocket Testament to all the American soldiers.

Kaiser Wilhelm, the devil, John Barleycorn and Bolshevism were the main objects of his fiery denunciation and the Bible the recipient of his greatest laudation.

TORTURED BY REDS

French Consul Arrives After Five Months in Bolsheviki Jail.

Paris, Feb. 25.—The French mission to Russia, headed by M. Duchesne, the consul general at Petrograd, which was kept in prison by the bolsheviki for five months, arrived in Paris Sunday night. The other members of the mission are Consul Charbaut, Consul Peltair, Capt. Ducastel Capouilly, Capt. Faupas. Lieut. Barrett and Lieut. Puissant.

Consul Charbaut told newspaper men that a cell adjacent to one of the cells in which the French were confined was occupied by five prisoners belonging to allied nations, two of whom were Americans. The cell, he said, was only two yards square and was reeking with vermin. The consul said the members of the party had endured many tortures at the hands of the bolsheviki.

If burdened down with weight of woe,
And you feel right bad for a day or so,
Just visit the Grand and see the show
That they put on tonight.

VICE PRESIDENT IS RIGHT

The action of Vice President Marshall yesterday in issuing his fiat to persons who applaud or attempt to applaud in the gallery of the United States Senate is timely. That reservation in the Capitol of the United States should not be regarded as a peanut gallery.

Unfortunately many people do not know how to behave themselves when away from home, and the meanest plebian acts are often in evidence even in places which should be regarded as sacred.

The President said to Senate spectators yesterday:

"A final word from the chair. The occupants of the galleries are acting like bolsheviki. They have been acting in that way for two or three days. The chair has let you applaud those who point with pride and those who view with alarm. It is over. The rules of the Senate are going to be enforced. Orders are going to be issued by me that the next time there are manifestations of either approval or disapproval to clear the galleries, and I will see whether there is any law in America at least."

Many years ago, when members of the police force were selected by joint meetings of the City Council of Alexandria, the space without the bar would be crowded with spectators and others interested in the election. At times it was almost impossible to keep order, as members of the crowd, some inflamed by stimulants, imagined they were attending a ward meeting. Often members of the audience would have the temerity to nominate their friends for positions as policemen.

Madame Roland before the guillotine took off her had turned to a city statute of Liberty and exclaimed: "O Liberty, Liberty, what crimes are committed in thy name!" We might say of Democracy "O what vulgar scenes are incident to thy reign!"

WOULD-BE LYNCHERS

All lovers of law and order will read with pleasure an article elsewhere which tells of the dispersion of a small mob in Alexandria county last night who were about to commit an overt act against the peace and dignity of the Commonwealth of Virginia. This band had approached the jail at Fort Myer for the purpose of demanding the negro who shot and killed Prohibition Inspector W. E. Payne, in Rosslyn last Friday night. A brother of the slain officer appeared on the scene while blood was in the eyes of the gathering and plead with them to desist from their unlawful purpose. He told the members of the mob that he was as much interested in bringing the slayer of his brother to justice as any one present, but he was a believer in law and orderfi and begged them to allow the law to take its course.

To the credit of the crowd, they adopted his suggestions and quietly dispersed.

The murder of Mr. Payne has caused considerable irritation not only in Alexandria county, but in this city also, where he was well known, as well as in every other section of the state. No matter what our theories concerning the practicability of prohibition may be, the fact that a state officer has been ruthlessly slain while in the discharge of his duty is an ill omen, and no good citizen, whatever his principles may be, will condone such an act.

But we do not desire Judge Lynch upon our judicial bench. When law and order shall cease to exist the world will become as did that of the antedeluvians—"filled with violence."

THE LATE DR. MARY WALKER.

The death in Oswego, N. Y., last week of Dr. Mary Walker brings to mind some incidents in her career which occurred in Alexandria. During the civil war, when Alexandria was the base of supplies of the Army of the Potomac, this well-known woman often appeared on the streets of our city, and after the close of the conflict she occasionally came to Alexandria while sojourning for a time at the national capital.

During the year 1872, after the burning of our City Hall, the City Council held bi-weekly meetings in old Liberty Hall. The late Judge Underwood was at that time a member from the Fourth ward. One night Underwood arose and stated that he had recently enjoyed a conversation with Henry A. Wise, and suggested that it would be interesting and profitable to invite Mr. Wise to deliver a lecture in Alexandria. He offered a resolution inviting the noted Virginian, who was then uttering his ideas on reconstruction, to come to Alexandria and deliver an address in the same hall in which he attacked Knownothingism several years before. The resolution was adopted by an unanimous vote, but when it reachd the Common Council a member, in a spirit of derision, offred an amendment extending an invitation also to Dr. Mary Walker to deliver an address here. This turned the matter into laughter and the resolution was put to sleep on the table. The doctor evidently heard of the incident and later visited our city attired in a tight-fitting broadcloth suit and silk hat. She remained in Alexandria nearly all day, and in her rambles visited Market Alley. While there a good-natured dipsomaniac of those days attempted to take liberties with her, when the masquerader drew a pistol and ordered the man away.

Dr. Mary Walker was misunderstood by the great mass. It was generally supposed she knew about as much concerning medicine and surgery as an ordinary house wife, and it was so stated in newspapers. This was erroneous.

Born in Oswego, N. Y., in 1832, Miss Walker was a graduate doctor with the degree of M. D. at the age of 23. Beginning practice immediately she soon adopted masculine clothes. Her war career began at the age of 29. She volunteered her services, entering the Union army as an assistant surgeon with the rank of first lieutenant. She dressed like her brother officers.

"When I was 16 years old," said the doctor on one ocasion, "my father said to me: "Now Mary, I don't want you ever to wear corsets. It is a shame that women encase their bodies in steel torture instruments." I promised him that I would never wear them and I never did. Later I concluded that skirts were quite as foolish and harmful as corsets and determined to taboo them likewise."

Although a pioneer in the woman suffrage movement Dr. Walker was out of sympathy with the methods of some of her sister-workers.

"Women will get suffrag just as soon as they stop making fools of themselves," she declared recently with considerable vigor. "They've got to stop talking so much and do some work. These everlasting amendments will never get them their rights. They want to state what they want and stick to it."

Annapolis, Md., Feb. 25.—After hearing yesterday morning, during which he listened to every advocate of clemency for John Snowden who is to be hanged here Friday for the murder of Mrs. Lottie May Brandon on August 7, 1917, Gov. Harrington announced he would not interfere with the execution and that he had taken up the subject for the last time.

A petition was presented in which eleven of the twelve jurors who found Snowden guilty, asked for commutation to a life sentence. Another petition was signed by a number of business and professional men of the city.

Gov. Harrington said that there was no doubt of Snowden's guilt. Snowden persists that he is innocent and still hopes to save his life.

FAR FROM BONE DRY

Plenty of Stimulants at Farewell Dinner to Ways and Means Committee.

There was nothing bone-dry about the speeches or the general atmosphere that surrounded the farewell dinner tendered by the Ways and Means Committee of the House to Chairman Claude Kitchin at the Raleigh last night.

It may have been just a coincidence that the date of the dinner was on the eve of President Wilson's return to Washington and the advent of a boozeless city. At any rate those that wanted their liquor "with or without" had it and no questions asked concerning how they voted on the bone-dry measure.

The tables in the ante-room adjoining the banquet hall held glasses and decanters that would have made even a prohibitionist doubt whether the Sixty-fifth was a "dry" Congress.

Somehow, those in charge of the affair had no misgivings as to how the guests with "wet" poclivities would get along with the "drys" for there appeared to be a fairly equitable sprinkling from both camps.

Representative "Charlie" Coady, of Maryland, was listed as a guest. The Maryland legislator is one of those who loudly declaims from the hustings that many members of Congress "drink one way and vote another." Perchance, if present, he gained cumulative evidence last night that he is right.

CLEMENCEAU SOON OUT

May Leave His Home Thursday, His Physicians Say.

Paris, Feb. 25.—The bulletin issued last night by the attending physicians report Premier Clemenceau's condition as "satisfactory as possible."

No official bulletin was issued yesterday morning. The doctors attending the premier told newspaper men on leaving the house at 9.45 o'clock that the premier's condition was very satisfactory.

The doctors expressed themselves as satisfied that M. Clemenceau was out of danger and that his complete recovery was only a matter of a few days' absolute rest.

Asked concerning the date on which it was probable the premier would be allowed to leave his home, one of the doctors said:

"Probably Thursday if the premier follows implicitly the instructions regarding the necessity of absolute rest."

The most optimistic omens are seen in the decision of the doctors attending Premier Clemenceau to publish only one daily bulletin on his conditin. All danger of pulmonary congestion, it is said is remote.

Only One Corn Peeler, "Gets-It"

Stop Corn Pains; See Corn Peel Off.

It is just when a corn hurts that you want to feel surest about getting rid of it. Why take chances of keeping the corn and having the pain grow worse? You'll use "Gets-It" anyhow, sooner of later; might as well use it sooner. Then you are absolutely sure that the corn will loosen from your toe so that you can peel the whole thing off painlessly with your fingers, in one complete piece—just like peeling a banana. It takes a second or two to apply "Gets-It." There's no fussing or puttering. Corn-pains will vanish—that'll keep you sweet while the "Gets-It" does the rest. Nothing new for corns has been discovered since "Gets-It" was born. Follow the judgment of the millions; use "Gets-It" and be sure to be corn and pain free! You'll say it's magic.

"Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

The Only Peel-It-Off Way Is "Gets-It."

Sold in Alexandria and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Richard Gibson.

The entire garrison of Munich has joined the Spartacans, according to latest word from the revolt-swept Bavarian capital. The "Reds" have arrested many prominent men, including all majority Socialist ministers. The provisional government of Bavaria is composed of the ministers, mostly minority Socialists. The authorities of Munich have seized a list containing many scheduled assassinations including plots for the murder of twenty royal hostages.

Eckington was isolated from Washington last night while a $200,000 fire, the first three alarm fire in five years, which destroyed twelve Washington Railway and Electric Company cars, waged for two hours. Flames from the fire imprisoned walls of the Eckington car barn were the first alarm nearby residents had of their danger. Hundreds of sleeping residents fifty feet away were endangered but quick action of the fire department prevented but minor damage to the residences.

VIRGINIA NEWS

The Senate yesterday passed a bill providing for transfer of Fisherman's Island from the Treasury Department to the War Department for fortification.

Charles N. Smith, a well known farmer of Madison county, shot himself last week at his home, dying instantly. Loading his gun, he went out behind the icehouse, placed the muzzle of the gun against his heart and pulled the trigger. He was 70 years of age.

A ponderous motor truck and engine bought recently by the Friendship Fire Company at a cost of $9,400, was badly damaged while responding to an alarm of fire in Winchester, when the driver lost control, the machine plunging into a tree. The front part of the truck was demolished.

Bryan B. Bendet, a Norfolk and Western Railway conductor, who refused to permit three officers to search, on John Doe warrants, the baggage of passengers on his train at Berryville for liquor, was held for his appearance in court on March 24 in $500 bond, which he gave. The question of the right of search on John Doe warrants, it is understood, will be carried to the United States Supreme Court.

A proposition to divide the diocese of Southern Virginia of the Episcopal Church is being worked out by a committee, which is expected to make report to the next meeting of the church council in May. The diocese is about 600 miles long, running from Norfolk to Staunton and into the far southwestern parts of the State, being very difficult for one bishop to cover it. The state some years ago was divided into two church divisions, it was made north to south so as to cut off the eastern from the western part of the diocese.

S. B. McDaniel, proprietor of McDaniel's delivery in Lynchburg, was fined $15 and $1.25 costs in the Police Court on the charge of assaulting Rev. George Floyd Rogers, rector of St. Johns Episcopal Church. The assault occurred just outside the police station and while the Police Court was in session. McDaniel had just been fined $10 on the charge of speeding in Woodland Avenue, the complaint having been made by Mr. Rogers, who appeared as a witness in the case. The minister and Mr. McDaniel left the courtroom together and after an exchange of words, according to the evidence in the trial later, the minister was slapped in the face.

RUSSIAN MONEY

Berlin, Feb. 25.—Many prominent refugees from Russia paint fantastic pictures in which comedy mixes with tragedy. A high Russian officer who escaped said to me yesterday:

"Russian money, which is the keynote of the Bolshevists power, is being printed in Berlin. Bolshevist soldiers are paid $30 an hour during fighting. Trotzky's private guards get $12,500 a month each.

"The Bolshevist army now numbers 1,000,000 including 25,000 well trained soldiers. I am convinced if the allies sent 50,000 volunteers, hundreds of thousands of Russians would join to overcome the Bolsheviki.

"The allies should install their own government in Russia and exploit the natural resources, or Germany will. Even if Bolshevism is crushed, Russia will be unable for at least ten years to govern herself. The political parties continue fighting. The situation will soon be worse than the Bolshevist."

Why Your Line Is Sometimes Busy

When you lift your telephone receiver, you signal the operator, which brings the line into use. If you leave the receiver off the hook when through talking, the signal remains and the line continues in use.

No call can be made or received over a telephone line while the receiver is accidentally off the hook.

In the case of a few subscribers, this happens frequently. May we ask you, for the good of the service, to see that the receiver is replaced on the hook at the close of all conversations?

Considerable Excitement When Stranger is Arrested at President's Hotel

Boston, Feb. 25.—Considerable excitement was caused at the Copley Plaza Hotel yesterday afternoon just before the President left the hotel for the Mechanic's Hall speech by the arrest of a man carrying a .32 calibre revolver and a black-jack.

The man was nabbed as he was trying to enter the hotel. When the police asked him his mission he replied:

"I want to see the President."

Three Secret Service men took charge of him and later had him locked up. He gave his name as Andrew J. Rogisky and his address as 1 Taylor street, Worchester, Mass. He is 33 years old.

At the Back Bay Police Station where he was locked up, he was charged with carrying dangerous weapons.

The throng gathered in front of the hotel assumed a threatening aspect when the man was seized, but it was quickly quieted by the police.

ROYAL WEDDING

Princess Patricia Will Not Promise to Obey—No Court Dress Will Be Worn

London, Feb. 25.—The most brilliant social week in years began here last night. The chief event will be the celebration of the marriage Thursday of Princess Patricia of Connaught with the British commoner, Alexander Ramsay, a commander in the British navy.

Despite the great gathering of royalty in the Westminster Abbey including the King and Queen, all men and boys of the royal family, and the crown princess of Sweden, "Princess Pat's only sister, the romantic wedding will not be like former royal marriage functions.

No court dress will be worn, and the women will be able to wear the brightest and smartest spring toilets.

Contrary to custom "Princess Pat" will not promise to "obey." Her rich Venetian bridal robe of white hangs in straight and graceful lines, and a cloth train of silver sweeps out from her shoulders. Over her hair will be drawn an antique Brussels lace veil which belonged to Queen Charlotte.

Rare pearls will encircle her throat and in her corsage she will wear the famous maple leaf diamond presented to her mother by Canadian friends. The eight bridesmades will be headed by Princess Mary.

MARRIED YANKEE GIRL

Wife of French Premier Has Visited America Three Times

Eauclaire, Wis., Feb. 24.—The pianoforte of Mary E. Plummer, who played on a Wisconsin farm more than half a century ago and who is now Madame Clemenceau, gave Eauclaire added interest in the welfare of "the tiger" George Clemenceau.

A number of old settlers here remember the little girl who came West with her father, Dr. Plummer, a Bristol, N. Y., dentist, in search of health.

A wealthy uncle took her East at 15. At a Stamford, Conn., seminary she studied French under young Clemenceau, who had come to America in 1865. They were married in 1869.

At the outbreak of the Franco-Prussian War in 1870 they hastened to Paris. Clemenceau's political activities began from the day he arrived.

Three children were born to the Clemenceaus—Madeline, Theresa and Michel. All took active part in the world war.

Madame Clemenceau has visited the United States since her marriage.
